INSTITUTE OF GOVERNMENT

The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill

Established in 1931, the Institute of Government provides training, advisory, and research services to public officials and others interested in the operation of state and local government in North Carolina. A part of The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, the Institute also administers the university's Master of Public Administration Program.

Each year approximately 14,000 city, county, and state officials attend one or more of the 230 classes, seminars, and conferences offered by the Institute. Faculty members annually publish up to fifty books, bulletins, and other reference works related to state and local government. Each day that the General Assembly is in session, the Institute's Daily Bulletin, available in print and electronically, reports on the day's activities for members of the legislature and others who need to follow the course of legislation. An extensive Web site (<http://ncinfo.iog.unc.edu/>) provides access to publications and faculty research, course listings, program and service information, and links to other useful sites related to government.

Support for the Institute's operations comes from various sources, including state appropriations, local government membership dues, private contributions, publication sales, and service contracts. For more information about the Institute, visit the Web site or call (919) 966-5381.

OTHER INSTITUTE PUBLICATIONS

Law of Employment in North Carolina's Public Schools 2000

ROBERT P. JOYCE

A reference guide for school personnel administrators, school attorneys, and school employees, this book explains both the employment powers and responsibilities of school employers and the rights of school employees.

An Introduction to Law for North Carolinians

Second edition, 2000

THOMAS H. THORNBURG

For anyone who wants to understand the complex subject of law in North Carolina. An easy-to-read guide providing basic information about the law—what it is, where it comes from, the many forms it takes, how it is applied, and its effects in operation.

A Practical Guide to the Liability of North Carolina Cities and Counties 1999

ANITA R. BROWN-GRAHAM

Explains the circumstances under which public officials or the units of government they serve can be held liable for monetary damages due to personal injuries and property damage resulting from the operation of governmental services. Discusses state and federal law, the standards of liability for each, and the defenses and immunities that protect units of local government and public servants from liability.

A Guide for North Carolina State Boards, Commissions, and Councils in the Executive Branch 1999

MILTON S. HEATH, JR.

Offers an orientation in basic public law issues for people serving on state boards and an introduction to the official duties and responsibilities of all citizen members of citizen boards, commissions, and councils that are policy makers and advisers to state government. Serves as a primer for prospective or new members and as a reference for more experienced members. Also of interest to departments of state government that staff and assist these boards and to citizens and members of the media with a general interest in state government. Appendixes include constitutional provisions, selected statutes, and executive orders.

Employment Law: A Guide for North Carolina Public Employers

Third edition, 1999

STEPHEN ALLRED

Offers guidance to public employers and employees in North Carolina on the law governing the employment relationship. Primarily intended as an explanation of the law, not a policy guide. Examines topics such as the employment-at-will doctrine and its exceptions; employment discrimination claims; recruitment and selection; discipline and discharge; constitutional issues in employment; the Americans with Disabilities Act; the Family and Medical Leave Act; the North Carolina Workers' Compensation Act; public records; and public-official liability. The book contains sample personnel policies in the appendixes, including a new sample policy on drug and alcohol testing.

Public School Volunteers: Law and Liability in North Carolina 1999

INGRID M. JOHANSEN

This publication provides guidelines for developing a policy, addresses liability issues for both schools and volunteers, and discusses the benefits of implementing a school volunteer program. It is the ideal tool for school volunteers, school boards, and administrators.

County Salaries in North Carolina 2000

COMPILED BY THE MAPS GROUP FOR THE INSTITUTE OF GOVERNMENT

A compilation of information on salaries and benefits in North Carolina counties. Designed to meet the needs of elected and appointed officials in reviewing current personnel practices.

Administrative and Financial Laws for Local Government in North Carolina

1997 edition and 1999 Cumulative Supplement

PUBLISHED BY LEXIS LAW PUBLISHING COMPANY

An indexed compilation of laws, excerpted from the North Carolina General Statutes, which identifies the basic legal requirements under which local government must operate. Book and supplement contain the most important laws that govern local government finance and administration, including the general statutes governing cities (Chapter 160A), counties (Chapter 153A), local government finance (Chapter 159), procurement (Chapter 143, Article 8), and other statutes governing particular local government functions. Each reproduced statute includes all annotations, historical citations, cross references, and notes found in the complete volumes of the General Statutes.

North Carolina Juvenile Code and Related Statutes Annotated

PUBLISHED BY LEXIS PUBLISHING, 1999, AND 1999-2000 SUPPLEMENT

This publication contains the entire Juvenile Code, new Chapter 7B of the North Carolina General Statutes, which took effect July 1, 1999. It also includes related statutes dealing with juvenile justice agencies, local confinement facilities, adoptions, schools, and medical treatment of minors. The 1999-2000 Cumulative Supplement updates the 1999 edition of the book. Incorporates all related amendments to affected statutes through the 1999 session of the North Carolina General Assembly.

Motor Vehicle Law and the Law of Impaired Driving in North Carolina

2000 edition

BEN F. LOEB, JR., AND JAMES C. DRENNAN

Discusses and analyzes the more common North Carolina motor vehicle offenses and includes the criminal penalties, driver's license penalties, and insurance points for each offense. Part 1 of the book deals with the most prevalent offenses. Part 2 outlines the impaired-driving offenses and discusses related matters, such as chemical testing for alcohol, vehicle forfeiture, and revocation of licenses because of impaired driving. An appendix lists the punishments for most motor vehicle offenses, including ones that are not discussed in Parts 1 and 2.

Economic Development Law for North Carolina Local Governments

May 2000

DAVID M. LAWRENCE

A book about the law that frames and guides economic development programs undertaken by North Carolina local governments. Focuses on topics that have attracted legislative and judicial attention such as economic development incentives. Chapters cover constitutional issues affecting economic development programs, statutory authority for such programs, statutory procedures governments must follow, financing economic development, possible organizational forms within local government, and incentives offered by the State of North Carolina to companies locating or expanding within the state. Includes an index.

North Carolina Guidebook for Registers of Deeds

Eighth edition, May 2000

WILLIAM A. CAMPBELL

Updates, revises, and expands the last edition, published in 1994. A guide to the powers and duties of registers of deeds, the book addresses the recording and indexing of real and personal property records, the recording of maps and plats, and the issuance of marriage licenses. It also discusses potential liabilities of the register of deeds and ways to insure against those liabilities.
